ASIA PACIFIC JOURNAL OF YOUTH STUDIES

- Formerly known as the Malaysian Journal of Youth Studies.
- Has been the official scientific journal of the Malaysia Ministry of Youth and Sports' Institute for Youth Research (IYRES) since 2009.
- Open-access, international scholarly journal that publishes research, policy, and practice-based articles on issues concerning youth and young adults.
- Interdisciplinary profile that aims to be of relevance to researchers, students, practitioners and policy-makers.
- Encourages submission of papers from all countries and contexts, with a special emphasis on youth residing in the Asia-Pacific region.
- All papers are subject to editorial screening and double-blind peer review.
- For research-based manuscripts, we welcome articles from both quantitative and qualitative traditions.
- The journal is published two times a year in June and November.
